

SEVENTY SCOUTS TO MAKE TRIP ACROSS RIO GRANDE

Boys Will Take Many Mile Hike Carrying Rations Sufficient for Two Days' Outing.

Order and neatness will mark the column of over 70 of the Albuquerque organization of Boy Scouts which will proceed from Partner's warehouse to their encampment at the Holloman ranch, south of the city, early Monday morning.

The boys will march in two patrols each boy will wear the khaki uniform of the order and will carry provisions for two days. An additional suit for camp wear, blankets and a compass will be carried in the backpacks. No firearms will be taken on the trip.

The routine planned by Scout Master John Berndale and Assistant M. J. McGuinness is calculated to impress the qualities of punctuality, obedience and manliness in the members.

The organization has been increased almost to the 100 mark and is still growing. Payment for membership by the national organization has been made by Executive Secretary James C. West, and admission is anticipated at an early date. One of the prerequisites for membership is the possession of a permanent club room, a want which the censorial board is doing its best to overcome.

As soon as suitable quarters can be found they will be equipped with literature upon scout lore, for the exclusive use of members. At present a number of handbooks, good stories for boys and literature pertaining to the order are being circulated among the lads.

The names upon the roster reflect in many instances those of the older generation, in given name as well as in surname. The following lads are among those who will go on the hike:

PENCIL PEDDLER GETS THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL

William Hoch, a peddler, was today committed to 30 days incarceration on the charge of drunkenness, following a trial before Judge Craig in police court. Hoch is a handsome specimen of the type that makes a victory of misfortune, and has the ability to play upon the sympathies of the public to a marked degree.

Two days ago he arrived in the city, and when questioned by the authorities said he was trying to work his way east. At the suggestion of Chief McMillan he was allowed to sell pencils without a peddler's license, but upon the exodus situation that he should not sleep a cent for drink. This part of the bargain Hoch failed to keep and he was found in a bordering state in the red-light district at 10 o'clock last night.

He told a piteous tale in court this morning. "Sixteen months ago I was a switchman on the road and was a steady young fellow making good money. Then I lost my left leg, it was cut off at the knee, and I have been doing the best I could ever since selling pencils isn't a very high calling."

"Nor getting drunk," said the judge. "You had your chance and you didn't make good. There are plenty of ways for men in your condition to make their way in the world in good faith. But you are just making it harder for yourself and harder for any good man who comes along. Thirty days in jail will do a good thing for you."

Hoch walked away on his crestfallen behind the turnkey.

Theodore Quintero, D. D., the one who charged indicted against a non-native who was given 25 days in default of bail in the session of the county's police court. The charge is taken from the hasty notes of the journal down before the trial Doctor of Divinity? Oh, no. There were simply drunks and disorderly drunk might have answered just as well.

DEEP LAID PLOT IS DISCOVERED BY TYROS

Santa Fe Clerks Organize Baseball Team by Gum Shoe Route; Apprentices Find It Out.

A team composed of clerks from the various departments of the local Santa Fe shops, is being quietly organized, with the intention of trying conclusions with the flourishing apprentices team before the season is ended.

The roundhouse and storehouse, as well as the machine shop will be represented. The plot to snatch the pennant from the apprentice unit, though, and all possible secrecy attends its development. But the apprentice lads are not to be caught napping, and they have already guessed the position of their rivals. They are only waiting to attempt the scalp of the Albuquerque Grays, before they drive the mysterious enemy from under cover, and make them explain what they have been hiding out in back lots and playing bat.

A commendable example has been set by a generous machinist, who withdraws his name, that will do much to promote the sport among the railroad boys. He has offered a prize of $500 or a John B. Stetson to the apprentices scoring the best batting average of the season.

PERSONALS.

Gus Stahlman, son of A. S. Stahlman, the plumber, is reported seriously ill at his home at 109 East Grand Avenue.

Paul Carrotte, who has been serving in the capacity of waiter at the Fashion Cafe, leaves tonight for his home in San Francisco, where he will take a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrington Moore arrived this afternoon from Silver City for a brief stay in Albuquerque guests at the Alvarado hotel. Mr. Moore is supervisor for the United States forest service, with jurisdiction over national forests in Socorro and Grant counties.

G. J. Schumann, for the past six months night clerk in the Alvarado hotel, has been transferred to the day clerkship in the Castenholt hotel in Las Vegas. Ramsey Vandenberg of Memphis, Tenn., is the new night man at the Alvarado. Mr. Schumann, during the time he has been with the Alvarado, has won a host of friends who will regret his departure.

Next Thursday night at a Beaversmoker, Roy Maher, the wrestler, will wrestle four local mat artists, one after the other. After he has cleaned up the quartet, Maher will take on any strong man in the audience and will pay a dollar a minute for every minute he can stay on the mat with him.

J. R. Vickrey, a plumber, today filed suit against Mr. and Mrs. John B. Burg for the recovery of $22.55 alleged to be due for hardware and plumbing on property situated in the Perea addition. The complaint asks for $2 to cover filing claim for mechanics' lien, and attorney's fees. Complainant is represented by Frank Ackerman.

MISS PROCTOR LECTURES ON ASTRONOMY TONIGHT

Miss Mary Proctor, famous lecturer on stars, slated to appear in the Santa Fe reading room in the general offices tonight, arrived in the city to-day accompanied by Miss Maud Hadane, the pianologist. They are stopping at the Alvarado. The entertainment promised by the reading room service tonight consists of a lecture entitled "From the Santa Fe Trail to Starland," illustrated by 150 excellent lantern slides handled by an expert, and piano recitations upon stars and childhood.

THESE MINES PAY DIVIDENDS ON THEIR STOCK

Ninety-Six Mines Show Dividends on Actual Investments of 107 Per Cent, a Profitable Business.

With the first quarter of 1911 under its belt, it is apparent, from reports made to the Mining Bureau by American miners and works, that the year, despite the present unsatisfactory conditions of the metal markets, will prove an unusual profit to holders of certain stocks.

With 36 mines and works contributing the dividends for the quarter ending March 31 total $21,849,441. That the destinations of American mining and metallurgical works are not of a specific nature is evidenced by the fact that the total declarations of the 36 companies, since incorporation, exceed the stupendous total of $65,126,121, a mighty strong endorsement of the profitability of mining when compared to other successful businesses are submitted. On the combined issue capitalization of these companies $60,348,289—this is a return equivalent to 107 per cent.

In the quarter's total the mines classified as gold-silver-producing, 21, contributed the largest part, or $8,759,718. Of these 18 mines, 19 are located in the United States, and the, disbursed $6,431,626, as against $3,631,177 by Canadian properties and $1,115,246 by 13 Mexican. These 19 United States properties have, since incorporation paid out to shareholders $121,396,129, or 32 per cent return on their $362,753,831 issued capital.

The 13 Canadian companies in the few years of their operations have been able to divide among shareholders $18,546,349 or 56 per cent on their $31,938,595 issued capital. The 13 Mexican companies have returned 111 per cent or $22,792,730 on their combined issued capital of $19,299,258.

Despite the continued unfavorable condition of the copper metal market, 21 American copper companies, all but one operating in the United States, have, by reason of unusual economies, been able to gladden stockholders during the quarter to an extent of $8,555,491. Since incorporating these 21 companies have paid out in the shape of dividends the enormous total of $365,929,354. On their combined issued capitalization of $194,188,195 this is equivalent to a return of 182 per cent.

That the operation of metallurgical works is one of profit to shareholders is evidenced by the fact that six of these paid dividends during the first quarter of the year totaling $3,163,861 and since the few years of their incorporation $110,295,059, a 73 per cent return on the $207,091,959 capital issued.

In addition to the above are the dividends declared by the securities holding corporations, which derive their profits from holding in other corporations. Seven of these, with an issued capital of $120,572,125, distributed among holders of their stock during the quarter, $4,047,392, and since incorporation $149,181,194, a 38 per cent return.

RATON BOYS WILL DEEP SNOW CAUSES POSTPONEMENT

V. A. Doggett, Chief Clerk, is Manager of Baseball Club Which Will Represent the Santa Fe Railroad.

University of New Mexico Will Not Play St. Michael's Club in Santa Fe Today As Scheduled.

The baseball game which was to have taken place between the University team and the St. Michael's men of Santa Fe in that city has been called off because of heavy snow in the Ancient City. The Varsity has a strong team to oppose the college, and was considerably disappointed when the phone message stating that the game would have to be postponed was received. The storm has been raging in Santa Fe since last night, and the diamond is covered with snow and slush to the depth of several inches.

Practice will continue at the Varsity throughout the week and Professor Conwell, faculty chairman of the committee on student athletics, will endeavor to slate a match for the earliest available Thursday.

RATON WILL HAVE JEFFRIES FINED FOR SPEEDING MOTOR

Schedule of Eighteen or Twenty Games Will Be Arranged Between Gate City and the Trinidad Stars.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 8.—James J. Jeffries, former champion prize-fighter of the world, has at last fallen victim to the "speed bug." Like his comrade in the squared ring, Jack Johnson, who is languishing in a San Francisco jail for speeding, Jeffries tried to simulate the swallow in its flight.

But, as Johnson would put it, Jeffries is on the outside looking in instead of being on the inside looking out. Should he ever be caught speeding again, it will probably mean that he will have to follow in the footsteps of Johnson and go to work making little ones out of big ones.

Motorcycle Officers Anderson and Dorse of the county speed squad arrested Jeffries. They were at their work on the Glendale road, just outside the city limits of Los Angeles when they spied a cloud of dust in the distance. They divined at once that the county speed edict was being transacted and at once began preparations for the capture of the lawbreaker.

Their machines were raced to their victim. Although he was not actually driving the car it was being driven under his orders and he was the one arrested. The former champion took his arrest cheerfully and laughed and joked with the officers regarding it.

Yesterday he appeared before Justice of the Peace Malone at Temple and was given a suspended sentence of $25. Jeffries declared that he would speed no more, probably recalling the fate of Johnson.

MABEE AND OLSEN SIGN ARTICLES FOR MATCH

April 14 is Date Set for Meeting Between Two Heavyweight Mat Artists.

Articles of agreement were signed last night by Roy Mabee of Oklahoma and Young Olsen of St. Louis, for a wrestling match to be pulled off in the Elks' theater in Albuquerque on April 14. Mabee won in a hand-to-hand match from Olsen Thursday night. Olsen took one fall out of Mabee in thirty minutes and in turn was thrown by the farmer in thirteen and twenty-seven seconds. Olsen had agreed to throw Mabee twice in sixty minutes or lose the match.

HAPPYS WILL PLAY SUNDAY IF WEATHER IS FAVORABLE

Two Juvenile Aggregations Will Meet on Baseball Diamond Tomorrow If It Does Not Snow.

Providing it is warm enough to play without overcoats tomorrow, the Happy Go-Lucky's and Highland Giants will play a game of baseball on Luna Park diamond, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Leo Murphy and "Oreoc" Guevara will be the battery for the Happy's. The Giants have refused and still refuse to say who will work for them, but promise to spring a surprise when the name of the slab artist is announced.

OF INTEREST TO THE FANS

Bugs Raymond is to open the season for the Giants in New York. If the extra innings to his seat on the car for the next few months the prediction that the team will come near being verified.

Hugh Daly, one-armed pitcher of the Cleveland National League and Chicago Union association teams, holds the world's season strikeout record. In 1884 he pitched 51 games and struckout 164 batters, an average of 3.39 a game.

Joe Jackson, sensational hitting Nap offiielder, mourns the loss of his pet bat. The broken stick was rushed to a factory to be duplicated, but Jackson wears crepe.

If Texas Jack Adams fails to land a permanent berth in a major league as catcher he insists he will turn his attention to pitching and try to break in again.

Hope is high in Cleveland since the word that Addie Joss' arm permits him to smoke 'em over occasionally, keeping through the censor's hands.

George Van Hyuren issued 16 passes to Boston while pitching for Chicago in 1887. Henry Gruber, Cleveland pitcher, repeated the dose in 1890.
